What to give our Children: We will not hide them from their children, telling to the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done. Psalm 78:4

Each year, Americans spend $24 billion on their children. Much of that is for essentials, but billions go for an endless catalog of "things." Is it wrong to spend so much on the children? That question does not have an easy answer. A study reported in the Wall Street Journal revealed that the majority of 10- and 11-year-olds have a TV in their room and can watch whatever they want. The real issue is not the money, but the reason for spending it. Do parents want to entertain, to indulge and to buy their children's love? Or do they want to train their children in godliness? It takes time to "train up a child." It takes effort to teach God's principles. It takes wisdom to be fair. It takes diligence to manage a family well. The truths and principles of the Bible, taught with time, perseverance, effort, wisdom, diligence – that is what to give our children – JDB
